

ALLIANCE VISITING PROFESSORSHIP

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY — SCIENCES PO

ONE SEMESTER IN NEW YORK OR PARIS

CALL FOR APPLICATIONS - 2025 -2026

DEADLINE EXTENDED: January 31st 2025

FACULTY EXCHANGES

The Alliance Program is calling for applications for visiting professors to Columbia University and Sciences Po. In the academic year 2025-2026, two positions will be offered:

One faculty member of Columbia University will be selected to spend one semester as a visiting professor at Sciences Po, and one faculty member of Sciences Po will be selected to spend one semester as a visiting professor at Columbia University.

REQUIREMENTS

- Applicants must be current faculty members of either Columbia University or Sciences Po. For Columbia faculty members, the visiting professorship program is open to all full-time Columbia University tenure-track and tenured faculty, as well as Professors of Professional Practice
- When applicable, Alliance Visiting Professors continue to receive their salary from their home institution. An additional compensation for accommodations and living expenses is paid to help cover the costs of the visit. The host university is not responsible for accommodation arrangements for the visiting faculty. The additional compensation varies according to the seniority of the faculty member. Please note that, for visiting faculty going to France, French law does not allow the payment of an additional compensation to faculty members over the age of 65
- Alliance Visiting faculty members are expected to teach one full course (14 two-hour sessions per semester/4 months) at the host institution
- They are also expected to deliver two academic lectures or seminar presentations, and to attend two dinners or events hosted by the Alliance Program

APPLICATIONS

- Applications should be discussed with a faculty member at the host institution to agree on the content of the proposed courses and their fit within the department's course offer
- Application materials include the following documents and must be submitted in English on the application form at <https://alliance.columbia.edu/form/visiting-professorship-applicati>:
 1. A statement of interest, including expected benefits for both institutions and potential long-term impact (student exchange opportunities, joint publications, joint research funding applications, development of dual degree programs)
 2. A selection of proposed courses and a two-page, session-by-session description of each course's content
 3. Preferred term for residence and teaching at the partner institution
 4. A full CV, including list of publications
 5. A letter of invitation from the department/school or the faculty member sponsoring the applicant's visit signed by the Chair or the Dean
 6. A letter of support from the relevant head of department or dean of the applicant's home institution

Applications should include the name of a faculty member or administrative contact at the host institution
